

With this game pieces are moved their own length. This means the hunters move over twice as fast as the fox when they move! This way of moving is more dramatic and versatile than using a board with squares.

